The statute sets no labor-rate sample or formula (the 100-RO/90-day method in (d) covers parts markup only). The manufacturer may disapprove only if the rate is materially miscalculated or unreasonable compared with similarly situated AK dealers. ≤1 rate increase per calendar year.

Chargebacks (AS 45.25.200(e); see (g)): "A manufacturer may not initiate or conduct an audit to determine the validity of paid claims for new motor vehicle dealer warranty work unless the manufacturer initiates the audit within one year after the payment of the claim."
Rate (AS 45.25.210(c)(1); see (d), (f), (i), (j)): "Unless otherwise agreed to by the manufacturer and the new motor vehicle dealer, the schedule of compensation may not contain (1) rates less than the rates that the new motor vehicle dealer charges retail customers for similar nonwarranty service work"
Factory time (§ 45.25.210(c)(2)): "Unless otherwise agreed to by the manufacturer and the new motor vehicle dealer, the schedule of compensation may not contain ... (2) time allowances less than time allowances provided in independent labor time guides."

Notes

Both floors in (c), the retail rate and the independent-labor-time-guide time, apply only 'unless otherwise agreed'. Manufacturers may not recover warranty costs through surcharges or fees (45.25.300(8)). The chapter's 'motor vehicle' excludes motor homes, recreational vehicles (incl. ATVs and snow machines) and motorcycles (45.25.990(12)). Current akleg print shows only the heading for 45.25.320 (repealed 2018). A separate incentive-audit window is in 45.25.200(f).

Current text comes from Justia's 2025 code (mirror). Every quote was matched to an official enrolled act or edition: Act 756/2009 § 12 (rewrote § 313(e)), Act 1077/2021 §§ 4, 6 (§ 310(d)(1), § 313(c)), Act 515/2023, and the 2011 Official Edition PDF on labor.arkansas.gov (§§ 23-112-105, -308, -310(d)(2)). § 313(e)(1) literally reads claims 'shall be either approved or disapproved within thirty (30) days following their approval or disapproval', a drafting glitch; the operative clocks are (e)(2)(B) and § 310(d)(2). § 23-112-308 was amended by Act 816 of 2025 (eff. 8/5/2025) only in (a)(25) (temporary tags, dealer extra plates); the warranty ground in (a)(18) is unchanged. Motorcycles/ATVs have a separate floor (§ 310(d)(1)(C)). Motor-home/RV warrantor rules are in subchapter 10 (e.g., § 23-112-1016). No frequency limit on rate requests was found.

(K) works in both directions: the manufacturer may lower the reimbursement rate going forward if the dealer's retail rate falls. Time allowances must be 'reasonable and adequate' ((D)). No-cost parts are paid at the retail parts rate ((J)). Stop-sale compensation is 1.5%/month and recall claims use the same 30/30 deemed-approval rule ((U)-(Y)). § 28-4464: the article does not apply to manufacturers that have never used franchised dealers. The 2024 HB 2410 amendments did not change the labor-rate text.

Notes

The 30-day claim rule in (b)(2) ('All such claims...') follows the recall sentence in (b)(1). (d)(7) treats it as the warranty-claim standard, but its literal antecedent is recall claims. The labor-rate subparagraph (a)(2)(C) has NO deemed-approval sentence; only the parts subparagraph (B) says a rate not disapproved in 30 days is 'deemed approved'. Hence deemed_approved_if_no_response = null. Time allowances must be 'reasonable and adequate' ((a)(1)(D)). § 10-1-645 allows a uniform time-standards manual. Stop-sale compensation is 1%/month ((d)). Current text was read on Justia through the browser (2025 Code of Georgia).

Notes

CLAIM-CLOCK CONFLICT: § 437-28(a)(21)(G) requires approval or disapproval within 30 days of receipt and payment within 30 days of approval. § 437-56(d), from the same 2010 act, requires approval or disapproval and payment within 45 days of receipt, with deemed approval if not disapproved 'within the required time frame'. The table uses the stricter 30/30. The labor rate is a floor AND a ceiling ('nor shall the rates be more than the retail rates'). Section (21)(G) is a licensing ground (Part I); §§ 437-56/57 are in Part II (DCCA hearing). No cost recovery (§ 437-56(e)). Recall and stop-sale claims carry the same limits as warranty claims (§ 437-59(e)); § 437-59(d) bars recall-related chargebacks, subject to § 437-57. Parts markup: effective within 90 days, presumed fair; at most once per 12 months; mfr may request additional information, which restarts the 90-day clock. The statute has…

Time allowances, incl. diagnostics, must be 'reasonable and adequate' (§ 322A.5(2)(c)). § 322A.5(5) extends the obligations to franchisers of separately warranted transmissions, engines or rear axles. The text is nearly identical to K.S.A. 8-2415(c). Iowa measures the 12-month chargeback bar from submission; Kansas measures it from payment.

The retail-rate duty applies 'Unless otherwise agreed'. The optional § 16 uniform reimbursement contract needs at least 30% of same-line franchisees; its time-standards manual must allow a 'reasonable and adequate' diagnosis time. §§ 15 and 15.5 exclude manufactured housing, heavy-duty vocational vehicles (49 CFR 523.8) and RVs. § 15.5 also binds independently warranting component or major-assembly makers. No cost-recovery surcharge (§ 15.5(i)). § 15(b) bars a statewide uniform hourly labor rate. § 17 has no deemed-approval clause; failing to decide within 30 days is an unfair practice. § 17(f) requires compensation for customer assistance with OTA or remote repairs performed at the dealership.

Factory time (8-2415(c)(3)): "The compensation to the dealer for warranty parts and labor shall not be less than the rates charged by the dealer for like parts and services to retail customers, provided the rates are reasonable."

Notes

Applies to 'first or second stage' manufacturers and distributors. No time-allowance sentence, unlike Iowa. Rate and parts rules mirror Iowa § 322A.5(2), but the Kansas chargeback window runs from payment.

Notes

Warranty rules are in § 15-212(c); § 15-212.1 covers incentive and reimbursement programs, not warranty. Time allowances must be 'reasonable and adequate' ((c)(1)(iii)). The labor floor is the 'current labor rate for nonwarranty repairs of a like kind'; the statute gives a parts formula only, no labor arithmetic. Free parts earn the dealer's markup ((c)(5)). Anti-retaliation and uniformity rules are in (c)(7). (c)(1)-(7) do not apply to travel trailers or non-OEM motor-home living components ((c)(8)). The 9-month chargeback window is the shortest in this group, and audits themselves are not time-limited.

Hourly rate: The 'retail rate customarily charged by that franchisee for the same labor when not performed in satisfaction of a warranty', as long as the nonwarranty labor rate is 'routinely posted in a place conspicuous to its service customer'. The statute has no RO-sample method for labor; the 100-RO / 60-day method is for parts markup only.

Factory time (§ 1176, first paragraph): "the franchisor shall reimburse the franchisee for any labor so performed at the retail rate customarily charged by that franchisee for the same labor when not performed in satisfaction of a warranty"

Notes

Parts: vehicles over 10,000 lb GVWR get only 'adequately and fairly compensate'; all others get the retail markup. The GVWR split does not apply to labor. Motor-home living components are excluded from retail parts pricing. No cost recovery. The franchisor may not restrict labor or parts in ways that impair warranty service. Recall labor and parts claims are processed and paid like § 1176 warranty claims (§ 1174(3)(C-3)). No denial of a warranty or recall claim discovered during a separate customer repair (§ 1174(5)). The statute has no time-allowance rule.

Notes

The deemed-approval sentence in (2)(c) ('If a manufacturer fails to disapprove within 45 days ... the declared retail rate is considered approved') sits among the parts-markup sentences. The labor sentences only require approval or disapproval within 45 days. Applying deemed approval to labor is a reasonable reading but an inference. The time allowance comes from the manufacturer's schedule; the dealer may request more diagnostic or repair time, and the manufacturer 'shall not unreasonably deny' it. The reimbursement duty covers recall and warranty service required by the manufacturer. The Act's promotion/incentive claims run on a 15-day payment clock ((9)). Act 118 has no administrative penalty.

Notes

The subd. 4 method applies only 'at the election of the dealer'. Otherwise labor pay must only be 'reasonable'. Since 10/1/2023, labor hours come from the dealer's own customer-pay time guide, not the manufacturer's allowance. Where no guide exists, actual time is paid, but not less than the time charged to retail customers. All diagnostic time counts, including time spent with manufacturer technical assistance. The statute sets no effective date for an approved rate. Cost recovery is limited: 60 days' notice with substantiation, and it is suspended while a dispute is pending (subd. 6). 'Manufacturer' includes distributors and engine manufacturers (subd. 10).

Notes

The official Mississippi Code is Lexis-only. Text comes from the enrolled 2021 HB 746 and matches the Justia 2025 mirror; the codified § 63-17-85(j) drops 'incidental expenses'. The statute has no deemed-approval rule for warranty claims. The payment clock runs only from approval. Dealers may not charge the manufacturer a labor rate 'in excess of the rate charged to its retail customers'. Time allowances must be 'reasonable and adequate' using 'the actual time required by a qualified technician of ordinary skill'. 'Warranty work' covers new-vehicle warranty, recall and CPO warranty, not service contracts. Recall and stop-sale claims follow the same § 63-17-85(j) limits (§ 63-17-73(4)(f)). The MMVC agency website still shows pre-2021 text.

The sample is all consecutive ROs containing 100 sequential qualified-repair ROs, or 90 consecutive days, whichever gives fewer, no older than 180 days. The rate takes effect 30 days after the franchisor receives notice unless it objects once, with full substantiation, that the rate is 'materially inaccurate'. Notes

The dealer may be paid on the franchisor's labor time guide or 'the labor time guide used by the dealer' for customer-pay work, at the dealer's election ((1)(a)(i)). Subsection (6)(a) cross-references the notice 'referred to in subsection (2)', but the notice duty is in (4), an apparent drafting slip. 'Warranty' means new-vehicle warranty, predelivery preparation, recall or CPO warranty issued or administered by the franchisor ((13)(f)). RV parts are paid at wholesale plus at least 30% handling ((10)). Franchisor cost recovery is barred ((8)(b)). The claims clock carries no deemed-approval language.

Notes

S.L. 2025-41 made several changes. It deleted 'time allowances ... shall be reasonable and adequate' and the 'competitive' proviso, added (a5) (dealer requests to modify time allowances), and changed the rebuttal standard to 'inaccurate'. It also NARROWED 'audit conducted for cause' by deleting the statistical-outlier and documentation-violation grounds. No limit on how often a rate can be declared. Motorcycles are excluded from (a), (b), (b1), (d), (e) by (f). Component-parts manufacturers are covered by (f1). RV living-facility parts are excluded from the parts-rate rule in (b).

Notes

Time allowances must be 'adequate for a qualified technician' (LB 667). The franchisor may not unreasonably deny a documented request to change a uniform time allowance or add time for a specific vehicle. The duties also bind separate warrantors of engines, transmissions and rear axles ((6)). The parts markup may be changed at most twice per calendar year. The statute sets no labor-rate change limit. DATE-SENSITIVE: from 10/1/2026 (LB 972) § 60-1438 no longer applies to recreational vehicles. RV warranty compensation, audits and claims then fall under §§ 60-1460 to 60-1466 of the new RV Act, which this record does not cover.

Notes

The labor rate has a parity floor and a once-per-year declaration limit, but no statutory sample, formula or manufacturer response procedure. The manufacturer may audit a dealer's 'effective rates' once per calendar year and cut them prospectively. That audit uses the parts method; a Board protest within 90 days stays the reduction until a final order, and an adjusted rate is frozen 6 months (II(b)(1)(B)(iv)). Scope covers warranty, maintenance plan, extended warranty, CPO or service contract issued by the manufacturer, distributor or its common entity, and any parent, subsidiary, affiliate or agent that issues a plan. Notes

Nevada has no labor-rate declaration, sample, formula or response procedure, only the retail-parity floor. 'Fair compensation includes diagnosis and reasonable administrative and clerical costs.' The statute never addresses time allowances. The official NRS text omits apostrophes ('dealers compensation'). Coverage includes delivery/prep, transportation claims, special campaigns, warranty and recall work. The 2017 amendment (AB 410) added used-vehicle recall/stop-sale compensation under § 482.363574 to the audit and appeal rules.

Notes

The § 465(3) lookback sentence is oddly drafted. It bars audits/chargebacks beyond 1 year (5 for fraud) 'without providing a notice ... or a mechanism' giving the dealer information on the errors. Read conservatively as a 1-year/5-year window plus a notice duty. The 2024 amendment (ch. 301) added extended-warranty and factory-compensated repairs to scope and pays time per the dealer's retail labor time guide. House-coach residential components are excluded from parts reimbursement. Pending A8773/S8360 (2025-26) is not law.

Notes

The 11/1/2025 acts gave manufacturers 45 days (was 30) to rebut and propose an adjustment. HB 2160 extended ¶ 9(b) to new powersports dealers. Both acts rewrote § 565 from the same 2024 base with the same substantive ¶ 9(b) text, so OSCN may carry two merged versions. Warranty claims have no deemed-approval rule. Time allowances must be 'reasonable and adequate'. Diagnostic work and OTA-related customer assistance are included. Cost-recovery surcharges are barred.

Notes

There are TWO REGIMES by franchise date. The 2025 c.50 amendments apply only to franchises entered or renewed on or after 1/1/2026. New for those franchises: (2)(b)(C), time allowances reasonable for a qualified technician, and no unreasonable denial of requests to modify or add time. Also new: (4)(c) 30-day resubmission, (5) the 1-year audit and chargeback grounds, (6)(c)-(e) limits on mileage-based denials, national-norm reductions and failure-rate repair caps, (7) markup on no-charge parts, and the dealer's once-per-year increase. Older franchises keep the 2023-edition text. Motor-home living-facility parts are excluded from parts reimbursement. Correction 2026-09-27: an earlier note said pre-2026 franchises had no statutory audit lookback; ORS 650.130(8) sets a 1-year limit for all franchises.

The 9-month audit window is shorter than most states. Paid hours: only 'the time allowance' in the compensation schedule, with no reasonableness standard. § 307 does not apply to manufactured housing ((a)(4)) or RVs ((g); see § 508). It does apply to medium/heavy truck component and engine makers ((f)). Pending SB 1182 is not law.

Notes

The retail rate is opt-in: it applies only after the dealer requests retail reimbursement under (C)(4). The statute sets no deadline for the manufacturer to approve or deny a rate submission and has no deemed approval. It says nothing on time allowances ((C)(3) 'hours of labor spent' is only the rate divisor). Cost recovery or surcharges are barred ((A)). Used-vehicle stop-sale compensation claims follow the same claim rules ((I)(5)).

Claims (§ 32-6B-58): "shall pay all claims made by a vehicle dealer for the labor and parts within thirty days following their approval. The franchisor, component manufacturer, or manufacturer shall either approve or disapprove the claim within thirty days after its receipt."
Chargebacks (§ 32-6B-58; see §§ 32-6B-58.2, -58.3): "has the right to audit any vehicle dealer claim for a period of one year after the claim is paid to the dealer and to charge back to the new vehicle dealer the amount of any unsubstantiated claim."
Rate (§ 32-6B-61): "shall rely on the vehicle dealer's written schedule of hourly labor rates and parts and may not obligate any vehicle dealer to engage in unduly burdensome documentation thereof"
Factory time (§ 32-6B-61): "Time allowances for diagnosis and performance of warranty work and service shall be adequate for the work to be performed. The hourly labor rate paid to the dealer for warranty services may not be less than the rate charged…"

Notes

No 'deemed approved' rule for a late original decision: § 58 requires a decision in 30 days, but the only deemed-approval language covers a claim 'resubmitted ... within thirty days after the receipt of the claim' (ambiguous drafting). Same claim/audit terms apply to component manufacturers and to separately warranted engines/transmissions/rear axles on commercial medium/heavy-duty vehicles at any authorized repair facility (§ 32-6B-58.1). Incentive audits limited to 1 year (§ 32-6B-69.1). Time allowances must be 'adequate' (not 'reasonable and adequate'). Parts floor = current retail rate.

Notes

Official code is Lexis-only; statute text read from Justia 2025 (history line confirms no amendment after 2021). The statute has no claim deadlines, deemed approval, audit window or chargeback limits; those come from Motor Vehicle Commission Rule 0960-01-.03 (claims, 12-month audit window, parts retention). Rule .04 sets paid hours (manual hours plus actual diagnostic hours) and Rule .05 a 30-day written response to labor-rate requests. Rules read on Cornell LII and Justia (current through 6/26/2025); the official SOS rules PDF (rev. 9/15/2025) returned 403, and the notice for that revision cites only rule .14 (license fees). § 55-17-114(c)(12)'s 'reasonable time' rule covers prior-model-year inventory payments only.

2025 ch. 558 (and ch. 546) struck the clause deeming dealer-rate compensation 'reasonable due to the substantial number of repair orders reviewed, unless the manufacturer can show that the amounts are not reasonable' (strike-through confirmed in enrolled PDF), so the statute now states no rate-challenge standard. 2025 also added: diagnostic time includes technician time communicating with manufacturer technical assistance; rental-reimbursement claims in 30-day increments with 6-month audit; recall-part pricing at highest price in prior 12 months; recall parts returnable within 12 months. No rate-submission response deadline or frequency limit. No compensation rule for residential-use RV components.

Chargebacks (§ 4086(f); see (e), (g), (h)): "A manufacturer shall retain the right to audit warranty claims for a period of one year after the date on which the claim is paid."
Rate (§ 4086(c) (last sentence); floor and presumption § 4086(b)): "the manufacturer shall reimburse the new motor vehicle dealer for any labor performed at the retail rate customarily charged by that franchisee for the same labor when not performed in satisfaction of a warranty"
Factory time (§ 4086(b); see (a)): "Time allowances for the diagnosis and performance of predelivery and warranty service shall be reasonable and adequate for the work to be performed. The hourly rate paid to a new motor vehicle dealer shall not be less than the rate…"

Notes

45-day claim clocks (longer than the usual 30). (e) says fraudulent claims can be charged back for 2 years after payment, while (f) sets a 1-year audit period for warranty claims. The retail labor floor covers predelivery as well as warranty labor. Time allowances must be 'reasonable and adequate' ((b)).

Notes

The rate uses an OEM-hour denominator, so it absorbs the gap between retail and warranty time. No statutory frequency limit on resubmissions. Covers work 'required, requested, or approved' by the manufacturer or that it agreed to pay, not only warranty ((3m)(a)). Motorcycles use a separate regime ((2m), (3), (4)): labor at the 'effective labor rate charged all customers'. Promotional/incentive claims (§ 218.0126) have a 2-year audit window.

Bars paying on a 'flat-rate figure that is less than what the dealer charges for retail work' ((b)(3)). Notes

(b) still says the warranty labor rate 'shall not exceed' the nonwarranty rate (worded as a ceiling), 'provided that rate is reasonable'; the 2025 (f)-(q) process is what sets the rate. The formula divides by 'hours worked', while (t)(v)(B) requires ROs to show 'labor hours charged'.
