The dealer may not charge more than its posted retail labor rate. Dealers file sworn labor-rate statements with the commission. The 100-RO/90-day submission in (d)(2)(C) covers parts markup only.

Notes

Official code is Lexis-only; statute text read from Justia 2025 (history line confirms no amendment after 2021). The statute has no claim deadlines, deemed approval, audit window or chargeback limits; those come from Motor Vehicle Commission Rule 0960-01-.03 (claims, 12-month audit window, parts retention). Rule .04 sets paid hours (manual hours plus actual diagnostic hours) and Rule .05 a 30-day written response to labor-rate requests. Rules read on Cornell LII and Justia (current through 6/26/2025); the official SOS rules PDF (rev. 9/15/2025) returned 403, and the notice for that revision cites only rule .14 (license fees). § 55-17-114(c)(12)'s 'reasonable time' rule covers prior-model-year inventory payments only.
